

CONFEDERATE SOLDIER DIES

Mr. M. B. Hadden, Prominent Citizen, Dies at the Home of Daughter.

Mr. M. B. Hadden, retired farmer and highly respected citizen, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. W. Eubank, in this city, last Wednesday morning at 6 o'clock.

Mr. Hadden had been in failing health for some time and his death was due to complications incident to old age. He was 86 years old and was born and reared in this county, where he spent his entire life, residing near Grassy Lick until a few years ago, when he moved to this city to spend his remaining days with his daughter. His wife, who before marriage was Miss Florence Elizabeth Greene, preceded him to the grave about six months ago.

Mr. Hadden was a Confederate soldier under the command of John Hunt Morgan and saw much fighting and hardship, and until a few years ago took great delight in reciting interesting events of the war. He was a member of the Mt. Carmel Old Baptist church in Clark county and was a conscientious Christian gentleman. He was charitable and generous and was a gentleman at all times with a host of admiring and loving friends who join with us in expressing our deepest sympathy in their time of sorrow.

He is survived by three children, Mrs. W. W. Eubank, of this city, and Mrs. Asa Dooley, of Clark county, and Mr. Shirley Hadden, of Winchester. The funeral services were conducted at the residence of Mrs. Eubank Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, conducted by Rev. Clyde Darsie and Rev. W. M. Cummings. Interment took place in Maehpelah cemetery.

While leading a horse at her home in this city this week, Mrs. James A. Scobee had a narrow escape from serious injury. She was hastily taken to Dr. Reynolds, where the broken glass was removed, and it is thought that she will get along without any permanent injury.

DASTARDLY CRIME

Monday night about eight o'clock a dastardly attempt was made to burn the new store house being erected by Mr. D. N. Young on the Owingsville pike near the city limits. The fire was discovered by neighbors and extinguished without damage. Coal oil had been scattered about in large quantities. The officers of the law are investigating the matter and we sincerely hope the guilty will be brought to justice.

Kidney Troubles Attack Mount Sterling Men and Women, Old and Young.

Kidney ills seize young and old. Often come with little warning. Children suffer in their early years—

Can't control the kidney secretions.

Girls are languid, nervous, suffer pain.

Women worry, can't do daily work.

Men have lame and aching backs.

If you have any form of kidney ills

You must reach the cause—the kidneys.

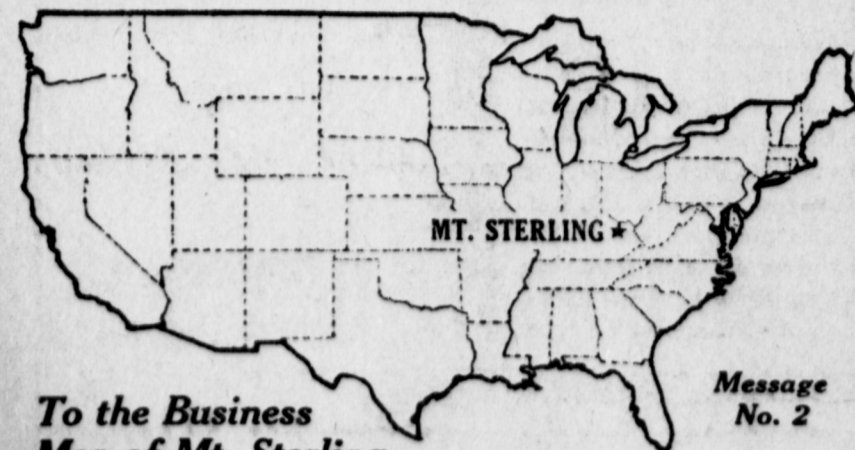

Doan's Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys—

Have brought relief to Mount Sterling people.

Mount Sterling testimony proves it.

Mrs. C. C. Schooler, 4 Jamison St., Mt. Sterling, says: "One of my family suffered from pains in the back and kidneys and had other symptoms of kidney complaint. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Duerson's Drug Store, were used and they made this person strong and well."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Schooler recommends. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

To the Business Men of Mt. Sterling

Business fights shy of dead towns. A sure sign of a dead one is the lack of local pride. People who live in a live, prosperous town show it. Their stores are attractive, their streets clean, their homes are well painted.

Nothing shows a lack of pride, a lack of prosperity, like paint-hungry buildings. Let's paint up. As the most durable and economical paint, we recommend and pure linseed oil, mixed right on the job, to suit the job. Have your painter tint it any color you wish.

Dutch Boy Phoenix White Lead

We carry all other paint necessities also. Consult us on that job of painting you have in mind. Today's the day.

SEVENTH ARTICLE ON CONSOLIDATED SCHOOLS

A continuation of the report of Mr. Rankin to the University of Illinois, who was sent to investigate thoroughly the question by personal visitation to the sections where they had been in operation for the greatest length of time. He says in continuation of his report:

"The tour of inspection next led me to northern Ohio. Trumbull, Ashtabula, Lake and Portage counties comprise some of the finest portions of the Western Reserve and here is where consolidation of schools is in more complete operation than in any other section of the West.

"The question of centralization seems to be largely a campaign of education. Massachusetts adopted the idea and centralized schools have been in operation there for nearly forty years, and in Ohio I am told that question was agitated twenty years before it was adopted in a single case. From an interview with the Hon. O. E. Bradfute, Cedarville, O., former president of the State Farmers' Institute, a close observing, scholarly gentleman, who has spent his life upon the farm, and is now living upon one of the best stock farms in the State. I quote, 'It was not an easy thing to bring about this idea of centralization of schools. There are many people in Ohio today who are afraid to tackle the question, but I can say with confidence that we now have a nucleus, especially up in the Western Reserve, from which we can work, and the idea is fast spreading all over the State. We have established enough so that we know they are a success. We know they are a success from a financial standpoint, and from the standpoint and opinion of the people who live in the communities where they have been in active operation the longest. I can truthfully say that in Ohio we are beginning to regard the centralization as something like the measles—catching. I have said to our people that there are four things that are going to benefit this country, and I think these four things are just as applicable to Illinois as they are to Ohio conditions. These are the telephone, the daily mail, the electric car and centralized school in the country, and when you have gotten these you have all the advantages of the city in the country and all the advantages of the country besides. No, I do not think I can advocate too strongly the plan of the centralized school.'

"Centralization of schools does not necessarily mean that all the schools of a township must be combined into one schoolhouse located at the geographical center of the township. Three or four districts may unite, making a two-room school in a township, or small schools may be centralized with an established graded school where conditions are favorable. A complete centralization means the uniting of all the schools of a township into one central graded school, or there may be the consolidation of schools of two or more townships just as now we have union district schools. In Ohio the township is the unit for school purposes and the schools are managed by a township board of nine to fourteen members, made up of one director from each of the sub-divisions of the township. They have no county superintendent of schools, but instead there is a township superintendent who is elected by the township Board of Trustees."

Union Services.

Preparations are now being made for the holding of the Union services by the local churches and it is likely that these evening services during the summer will be held in the Courthouse yard, probably the coolest place in the city. The first service will be held on Sunday evening July 4th.

CLIPPINGS FROM THE SNAGTOWN TORCHLIGHT

Billy St. Aubin, a local con song singer, has decided to leave Snagtown again forever, after having returned from Hot Water Springs after a short stay there, with the announcement that the place was no good for him. He was doing some near-acting at the Princess theatre when the manager came upon the stage with a pair of ice tongs and dragged him off. He is now preparing to go to the Peavine Ridge community, where he has accepted a lucrative position with a sorghum mill, stopping up rat holes in the sorghum barrels before they are filled. This is a very important position, as the molasses would run out were not the holes stopped.

A mass meeting for discussion and decisive action on the fly question was held at the town hall Wednesday night. Several lively addresses were made against the fly by many of our leading people, among whom was W. C. Herman, who grew vehement in his denunciation of them. For awhile there was considerable strong feeling against flies in general. The result of the meeting was by unanimous vote the adoption of a resolution condemning the pests in strong terms. Clement Manning is authority for the statement that he saw a large drove of flies leaving Snagtown early the next morning.

John Dashner has improved his feet with a pair of new shoes, and has been engaged to pat and stamp for the dance on Bull creek Saturday night.

An old miser has settled in our midst. He hails from the Bear Mountain community and has taken possession of the old deserted cabin in the Coon creek bottoms, near where the tin peddler was murdered for his money. The Snagtown improvement society has appointed a committee to offer him assistance in picking out a spot in which to bury it.

H. F. Denton came into Snagtown today in a hurry and organized a posse of men to assist him in going to the rescue of his mule, which had become the victim of a peculiar occurrence. The mule has been in the habit of standing under a tree on Peavine Ridge for several months and when Mr. Denton went there today to feed him he found that the animal was utterly helpless on account of a lot of grape vines that had grown around him.

Two or three members of the Rattlesnake Ford church have moved from that vicinity, but expect to continue to affiliate with that congregation, and have instructed the preacher to ring the bell a little louder on Sunday mornings.

Prof. Lin Roberts informs us that during these moonlight nights the Excelsior Fiddling Band has been standing out doors practicing up to play at the moonlight picnics for this month.

Mr. Mitchell Sullivan, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Sullivan, of this city, who has been attending State University, at Lexington, has secured a splendid position in New York and left this week to assume his duties. Mitchell is a young man of unusual ability and his many friends here predict a rapid rise for him in the metropolis.

OPPORTUNITY

(By Berton Braley.)

With doubt and dismay you are smitten
You think there's no chance for you, son?
Why, the best books haven't been written
The best race hasn't been run,
The best score hasn't been made yet,
The best song hasn't been sung
The best tune hasn't been played yet,
Cheer up, for the world is young!

No chance? Why the world is just eager
For things that you ought to create
Its store of true wealth is still meager
Its needs are incessant and great,
It yearns for more power and beauty
More laughter and love and romance,
More loyalty, labor and duty.

No chance—why there's nothing but chance!
For the best verse hasn't been rhymed yet
The best house hasn't been planned,
The highest peak hasn't been climbed yet
The mightiest rivers haven't been spanned,
Don't worry and fret, faint hearted
The chances have just begun,
For the best jobs haven't been started
The best work has not been done.

The ethics of home correspond in a large measure with ethics of society. All these virtues which are crowned jewels of the highest civilization have their inception in the home. The glory and charm of womanhood and manhood, the niceties of character which give distinctiveness and beauty to childhood and youth, the adjustments of personal and domestic relations within the home, the education of the impulses, budding susceptibilities and growing powers of children all fall within the powers of home ties.

MUST PAY DEBTS

Eight thousand Government clerks in Washington have been warned to pay their debts or get out. And they should be made to walk the plank if they don't do it. In hard times or good times their salaries go on. If they were not well paid for their ability they would seek other employment. And in paying debts all other regularly salaried men, in public or private station, should be likewise punctual. Mechanics whose employment is irregular have some excuse for getting behind, in dull times, with their obligations, but the clerk whose salary goes on every week in the year has no excuse for not living within his means.

THE SIMPLE LIFE

A man is simple when his chief care is the wish to be what he ought to be: That is, honestly and naturally human. We may compare existence to raw material. What it is, matters less than what is made of it; as the value of a work of art lies in the flowering of a workman's skill. True life is possible in social conditions the most diverse, and with natural gifts the most unequal. It is not fortune, or personal advantage, but our turning them to account. That constitutes the value of life. Fame adds no more than does the length of days. Quality is the thing.

SMILE AGAIN

Do you remember that smile that escaped you the other day and flooded your face with sunshine, and brought joy to the hearts of your friends and the little ones as you passed them on the streets?

That smile was contagious. It spread from you to others, and from them to still others, and kept on spreading and growing, and is still traveling from face to face somewhere in this world.

Do it again, and do it often—do it every day.

A smile is worth much and costs nothing.

It is a pearl without price.

And it is a gift which you may bestow upon others without trouble or loss to yourself, a boon to humanity which encourages, and elevates, and ennobles the giver as well as the recipient.

An up-to-date girl told a Fresh Young Thing who got too gay with her the other night "To Submerge."

Uncle Sam's hat is still on his head. Hope it stays there.

HOUSE CLEANING

Sing a song of cleaning house! Pocketful of nails, Four and twenty pans, Scrubbing brooms and pails! When the door is open, Wife begins to sing—

"Just help me move this bureau here And hang this picture, won't you dear?"

And tack the carpet by the door, And stretch this one a little more, And drive this nail and screw this screw

And here's a job I have for you— This closet door will need a catch, I think you'll have to fix the latch; And, oh, while you're about it, John, I wish you'd put the cornice on, And hang this curtain when you're done,

I'll hand you up the other one; This box has got to have a hinge Before I can put on the fringe; And won't you mend this broken chair?

I'd like a hook put on right there. The bureau drawer must have a knob, And here's another little job—

I really hate to ask you dear— But could you fix a bracket here?"

And on it goes when these are through With this and that and those to do Ad infinitum and more, too,

All in a merry jingle— And isn't it enough to make A man wish he was single? Almost.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. THE GENTLEMAN

AND THE GROUCH

Stand a gentleman and a grouch side by side, and which will command the greater respect?

Webster says that a gentleman is a man of "refined manners and good behavior," while the grouch is "gruff and morose."

It is easy for any man to be a gentleman, and he has much to gain and nothing to lose.

It is equally easy to be a grouch, with everything to lose and nothing to gain.

The gentleman has many friends and but few enemies, while the grouch has many enemies and but few friends.

God smiles upon the gentleman, while the devil smiles at the grouch. Life is bright to the gentleman, while to the grouch it is full of gall. Be a gentleman if you can, but don't be a grouch.

MR. R. C. ROBINSON

Mr. R. C. Robinson is a candidate for Assessor of Mt. Sterling, and, desiring to simultaneously acquaint his Democratic friends with the fact, has authorized us to make this announcement.

Mr. Robinson is well and favorably known, not only to his fellow-citizens of Mt. Sterling, but to nearly every resident of the county. His life, as a citizen, has been upon the same high standard he fixed for himself, when, as a Confederate soldier, he gallantly fought for a principle he believed to be right, in the Tipton company of Cluke's regiment.

As to how he has met official responsibility, we refer our readers to his faithful term of service as Sheriff. He now needs the office and as one thoroughly deserving and capable, we present his claims and ask for them careful consideration at the hands of the Democratic voters of the city in the coming August primary.

THE SCHOOL BOARD'S OPPORTUNITY

We rejoice in the fact that the prospects are good for a consolidated school at Camargo. For years we have advocated the consolidation of inferior rural schools into one high grade school centrally located. Experience has proven we have too many poor schools in Kentucky and too few good ones. It is not a question of how many schools, but how good.

The County Board of Education has a great opportunity before it. We hope its members will see and grasp it. Upon the success or failure of this, our first consolidated school, will depend the future of the movement here; hence it is highly important that no mistake be made. Our advice to the Board is not to act "penny wise and pound foolish." Erect a commodious building, equip it properly and make the Camargo Consolidated School an honor to its community and the county as well.

CAMPAIGN STORIES

Recently we heard a couple of candidates bitterly resenting what they termed criticism of them by friends of their opponents, as well as of downright falsehoods being circulated to their detriment. We appreciate their predicament, as we have heard not a few political stories of late which we know to be canards of the whole cloth and can only suggest by way of consolation and for their future guidance that they follow the admonition of the immortal Lincoln when he said, "I do the very best I know how—the very best I can; and I mean to keep doing so until the end. If the end brings me out all right, what is said against me won't amount to anything. If then end brings me out wrong, ten angels swearing that I was right would make no difference."

WORKING FOR GOODPASTER

Albert W. King, the popular local tobacco buyer, is doing good work for that splendid young Democrat, Hon. Sherman Goodpaster, who is running for the nomination for State Treasurer. Mr. King is not confining his work in Boyle county, but is seeing the voters in Jessamine, Garrard, Mercer and Lincoln counties. Mr. King is one of the best campaigners for friends in this part of the State, and his efforts will tell in behalf of Mr. Goodpaster when the votes are counted in the August primary. Goodpaster is very popular everywhere, and his clean record as State Inspector appeals to those who admire an honest and faithful public servant.—Danville Advocate.

MCCHESNEY TALKS TO 2,500 IN MORGAN

Hon. Harry V. McChesney spoke at West Liberty Monday at Highland Park to more than 2,500 persons, several hundred of whom were women. It was the biggest crowd ever assembled there to hear a political speech. The people walked the half mile to Highland Park when it was found the courthouse would not hold the people.

Mr. McChesney spoke for nearly two hours and applause was frequent, hearty and general and it was evident that the crowd was for the State-wide candidate. After the speech about fifty women arose in the audience and sang "Kentucky's Going Dry." Many Republicans came to Mr. McChesney after the speaking and pledged their support in the event of his nomination.

LEXINGTON ENTRY LIST

The Kentucky Trotting Horse Breeders' Association, whose annual fall meeting at Lexington has long been looked upon as the grand finale of each racing season, has received a wonderful list of entries to its early events, to which entries closed June 1st, a grand total of 458 horses having been named in eleven classes, which include eight fixed events and three divisions of the association's Futurities for two-year-old trotters, three-year-old trotters and two-year-old pacers, the average being practically forty-two to the race.

To those same events, last year, but 385 entries were made, or seventy-three less than this year, which would indicate that the racing to be witnessed in October in the Blue Grass State will be even more brilliant than any heretofore furnished for the patrons of harness sport who gather in Lexington each fall from all parts of the trotting world.

In the Kentucky Futurity, for three-year-old trotters, seventy youngsters were paid up on June 1st, as against thirty-eight a year ago, which can be accounted for by reason of the fact that no one or two youngsters of the age at this time appear to outclass the others, as was the case in 1914, when Peter Volo, 3, 2:03½, and Lady Wanetka, 2, 2:10, appeared to stand out several seconds in advance of all other three-year-olds.

The Kentucky, also for three-year-old trotters, received seventy-nine entries, as against thirty-five for the same event in 1914. The great difference here shown in favor of this year's race is explained to a great extent by the fact that the June first payment was but $5 this year, $20 being the amount paid last year, and this was also the case with The Lexington, for two-year-old trotters, which received sixty-four entries this year, and thirty-six in 1914. While President Ed. A. Tipton is naturally greatly pleased with the support accorded the Kentucky Trotting Horse Breeders' Association, he is particularly gratified with the entry received to The Castleton Cup, which, this year, is for free-for-all trotters, the purse being $3,000, while a $500 gold trophy is added by Oavid E. Look, master of Castleton, the famous breeding establishment near Lexington. No one was prepared for this pleasant surprise furnished by the splendid list of entries received to this event, which is open to all trotters. All told, sixteen of America's equine aristocrats are named in The Castleton Cup as follows: Anvil, 2:02¼, Etawah, 2:03¼, Peter Volo, 2:03½, Joan, 2:04¼, Rhythmell, 2:04¼, Ross B., 2:04¼, Maymack, 2:04½, Star Winter, 2:05, Newzel, 2:05, Margaret Druen, 2:05½, Brighton B., 2:05½, Peter Scott, 2:07½, J. Malcolm Forbes, 2:08, Lee Axworthy, 2:08, Peter McCormick, 2:08¼ and Sir Harvester, 2, 2:24¼.

Whether Leo Frank be guilty or not guilty, the country at least knows of one Leo Frank.

DESERVES TO WIN

Hon. Sherman Goodpaster, of Owingsville, who has served the State in the capacity of State Inspector during the present administration, and who is now seeking the nomination for State Treasurer, spent yesterday in Danville and to his great surprise, only found one man who was not for him.

Mr. Goodpaster has visited all the counties in the State as State Inspector and has reported the condition of the various county offices without fear or favor. He has made the best official the State has ever had, and has the utmost respect of both parties in Kentucky. His record is as clean as a hound's tooth. He is young, brilliant and deserves this honor he is seeking and will fill the place with credit to himself and his State.

He served his county, Bath, as County Attorney for two terms and made good both times. He is the one man among all the candidates running who wins the confidence of the voters on first appearance. He is not allied with the nefarious ring at Frankfort and is a high-class Kentuckian whom all should desire to honor. He was accompanied by his friend, Hon. Francis B. Douglas, who formerly represented Boyle county in the Legislature.—Danville Advocate.

The trouble is, when Joy keeps open house, his dwelling is so crowded he hasn't elbow room to play the fiddle for the world to dance.

The following beautiful tribute to woman's love and devotion is from the pen of Robert G. Ingersoll: "The one thing in this work that is constant, the one window in which light forever burns, the one star which darkness cannot quench, is woman's love. It rises to the greatest height, it sinks to the lowest depth, it forgives the most cruel injuries. It is perennial of life and grows in any climate; neither coldness nor neglect, harshness or cruelty can extinguish it. A woman's love is the perfume of the heart. This is the real love that wrought miracles in art, that gives music all the way from the cradle song to the symphony, that bears the soul away on wings of fire; a love that is greater than power, sweeter than life, and stronger than death."

NOTHING TO IT

Despite the claims to the contrary, there is absolutely nothing to the idea that Kentucky will elect a Republican ticket this fall.

Perhaps Edwin Morrow thinks so. If so, he is not the intelligent man that his Democratic friends accredited him with being. However, if his ticket should win, the credit, or rather discredit, can easily be charged to the Democratic party.

We have a majority—a large majority—of the votes in the State. Certain so-called Democrats have left nothing undone, it seems, that would tend to bring about Republican success, but happily, these people and their methods are known, and it is hardly within the range of belief that they will cut much figure when the people select a ticket in August.

Any good Democrat running on the last platform built for the guidance of the party will have the constant support of this newspaper, and none others should be recognized by Democratic voters.

If a clean, honorable, intelligent body of men from Governor down to Agricultural Commissioner is selected—and it will be easy to pick them from the field—much less talk will be heard of Republican success in September than is being heard in June.

Whatever the Republican party may have achieved in State politics elsewhere, the two trials in Kentucky proved costly and disastrous, and the wish for a repetition will hardly prove far-reaching.—Franklin Favorite.

A Big Show Coming.

The big W. I. SWAIN SHOW is headed this way. Devotees of high-class refined amusements in Mt. Sterling will have ample opportunity to indulge their artistic appetites in a sensational series of thrills and thrills, laughter, music and bewilderment for one solid week commencing Monday night of Fair week. The shows embraced in the Swain repertoire this year are carefully culled from a selection of the most recent and conspicuous metropolitan successes. They are diverse in theme and character, ranging from the snappy musical and comedy dramas to the rugged western plays and society dramas so much in vogue with the ladies.

Many novelties have been added to this famous organization this year and a succession of surprises may be anticipated by those who attend each scheduled performance. The enormous capacity of the big tent, holding as it will, a whole town full, makes it possible to maintain a scale of prices sufficiently low to enable entire families to attend each and every performance throughout the week's engagement, thus enjoying a big jubilee week of instructive diversion at a minimum cost.

ARRIVE SAFELY

STIR UP HORNETS' NEST

Those officers of Montgomery county who are determined that the illegal sale of whiskey shall not go on, labored better than they knew when they sent last week before the Grand Jury of Menefee county, a young man serving a term in our county jail for disturbing religious worship, an account of which appeared in our last issue.

The information secured caused the Grand Jury to subpoena a number of other Montgomery county witnesses, resulting, we are informed, in some fifteen indictments against Ben Bellamy, who lives just across the county line in Menefee county. When the indictments were returned, his bond was fixed at ten thousand dollars and we are further told he has left the country. It is also said he had a Montgomery county partner. This is being thoroughly investigated and if verified, prosecutions will quickly follow.

DIED AT LOUISVILLE

Mr. Jack Devary, of Lexington, a brakeman on the C. & O. R. R., died at Louisville last Wednesday from injuries received when he was caught between two freight cars.

Mr. Devary formerly lived in this city, where he was very popular. He is survived by his wife and four children who have the sympathy of many friends.
